Poker Skills Assessment

In the case of an assessment of poker players' skills, experts pay attention to game statistics, ROI and hand history. Experts provide the most detailed assessment and tips for the player, which is published in the player's profile. Thus, before voting, token holders have the maximum amount of information in order to be able to make the right decision.

Community Voting

When a player's profile is approved by our experts, we're opening the voting for this player. Token holders vote without spending tokens, the resulting input from each voter is calculated proportionately to the number of tokens held. This approach allows us to value the opinion of the token holders who own more tokens with higher priority. It's very important to us that our community decides whether we should proceed to further negotiations with a player and we're glad that approx. After the Voting stage, we hold the final negotiations with athletes and, if the contract is signed, provide them with financial support to progress in their future careers.

Coaching

If you are not ready for a professional poker career, you can significantly improve your skills in training with our coaches. We present to your attention the opportunity to get personal training with our experts in the Token Stars team.

Tobias Schaaf has been playing poker professionally for over 10 years and managed to take part in many international tournaments throughout Europe. He also has 2 years of mentoring experience with other players, with whom he has already helped increase the level of the game and earn more than $ 60,000.
